Primary still on schedule

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

A brief scare that the Aug. 4 primary in Michigan could be delayed—making an extremely confused political season even more confusing—was ended last week, when the state Supreme Court issued a rare memorandum opinion that upheld the current redistricting map.

A three-judge panel abandoned a hurry-up schedule in relation to a suit filed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People claiming the current redistricting map violated the Voting Rights Act. The suit also cited the needs for two more minority based districts that would include minorities in Detroit and Oakland County.

But the "scare" would have created a major campaign problem in Romulus, where state Rep. Gregory E. Pitoniak, currently serving in the old 29th District, is seeking the Democratic nomination for the new 22nd District covering Romulus and Taylor.

Pitoniak will be facing challenger Catalina Hall of Romulus in the August Democratic primary.

If the Supreme Court had overturned the redistricting plan, Hall would have faced incumbent state Rep. James Kosteva of Canton Township, who currently represents the old 37th District that includes Romulus.

Kosteva is now placed in a redesigned 21st District that includes only Canton, Belleville and Van Buren Township. He faces no opposition in the Democratic primary, but will face a Republican challenger in November.

Pitoniak said Friday he was happy with the decision, which allows him to proceed with certainty with his campaign plans for re-election in the 22nd District.

He met Thursday night with Romulus City and School Board officials at the Days Inn hotel for a sensitivity session that was called by Pitoniak to acquaint him with Romulus concerns on a state level.

Pitoniak admitted Friday morning that the stickiest issue that came up with Romulus officials concerned items relating to the Tax Increment Financing Authority.

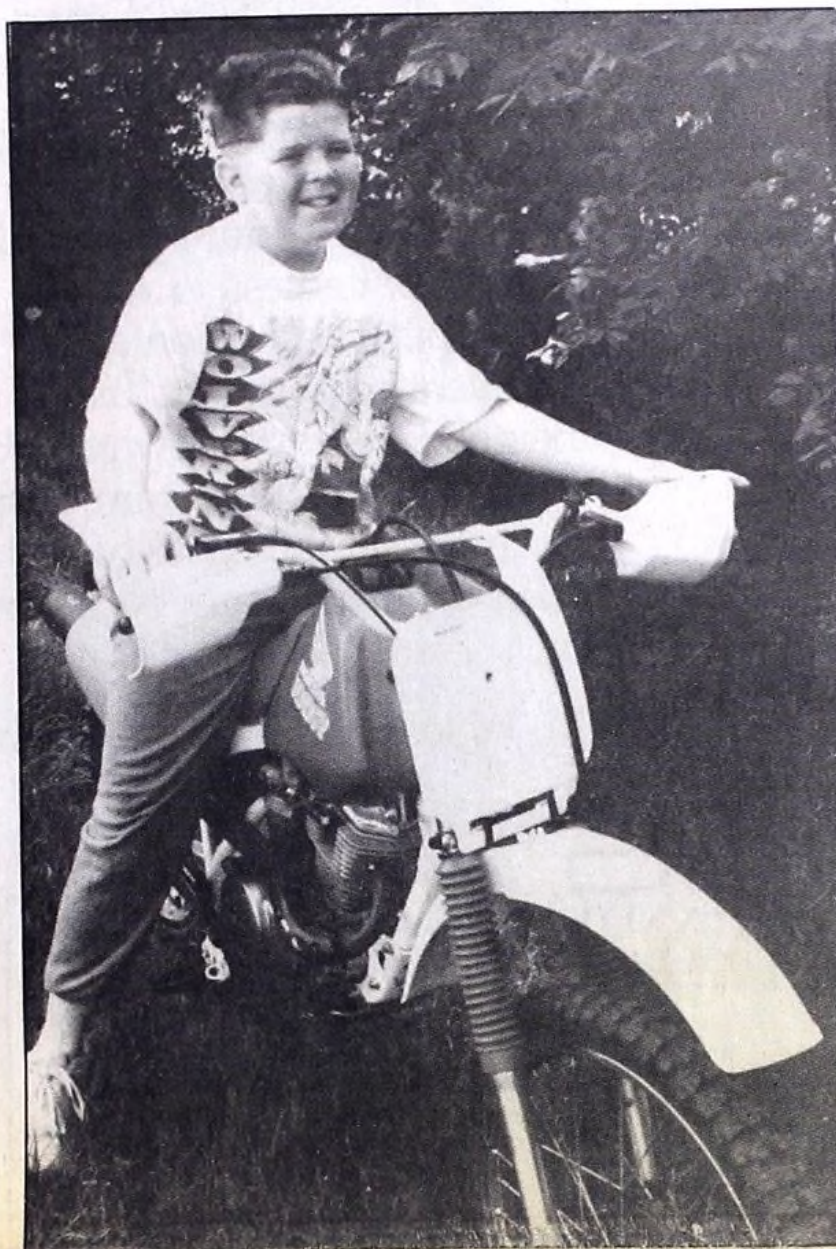

He admitted that the concerns were widely divergent in Taylor and Romulus on TIFA spending and he would have to study the issue further because of those complexities and potential differences in local needs.

But he did praise Romulus officials for their "prudent selection on TIFA" matters.

Hall's campaign staff also was pleased that the decision was made "since all our campaign stances have been taken with the idea that Pitoniak will be our August opponent."

Hall earlier had said she would have entered the race even if Kosteva was still the state representative for Romulus, because she feels both Pitoniak and Kosteva come from a similar field on women's issues.

Leukemia victim, 10, wins 2-day fun trip

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Jason Orme, 10, who was diagnosed with leukemia in January 1991 had his ups and downs this week, but luckily it was at Cedar Point amusement park.

Orme won first place in a recent "Hometown Kid" contest sponsored by the Romulus IGA supermarket. The second and third place winners were John Hadyniak and Kim Mientkiewicz.

Orme's mother, Sandi Vlaz, credits his first place win to the support he received from his fellow Wick School students and their families. Her son is a 6th grade student there and has been on the honor roll four times recently.

All three winners were treated to a two-day holiday at SeaWorld and Cedar Point this week compliments of the IGA chain.

Since his leukemia diagnosis, his mother said, Orme has been given chemotherapy treatments on an outpatient basis.

Despite his medical problems, Orme has been able to continue his love of sports and aggressive athletic activities. He is the pitcher for the Angels in the local Little League and plays second base and shortstop in a summer softball league.

Orme said his favorite major league baseball team is the Oakland A's and one of his favorite players is George Brett of the Royals.

He also loves to collect baseball trading cards and now has more than 10,000 of them. The pride of his collection is a $300 Robin Yount rookie card, which he found in a garbage bag of old cards his cousin had given him.

He also has a Mickey Mantle card that he purchased several years ago for $20.

One of Orme's other proud possessions is a Honda 100 XR motorcycle he purchased last year after the local police department conducted a 50-50 drawing for him.

Orme's dad, Walter, is a city Department of Public Works employee. His step-father is Dane Vlaz.

Ron Jernigan, IGA owner, said about 35 youths competed in the contest. Shoppers were allowed to cast one vote for any candidate they wished for each $1 they spent at the IGA. Orme gained 5,347 votes, 400 more than any of his competitors.

Before leaving for the all-expenses-paid holiday, Orme said he was looking forward most to riding on the Iron Dragon amusement ride.

Anti-Tiger Stadium tax effort growing

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

While Mickey Tettleton led the Detroit Tigers to an extra inning win Monday night, Mike Gruber and the Romulus City Council tossed a shutout against Tiger owner Thomas Monaghan's bid to build a new stadium at taxpayers' expense.

Gruber, head of the Tiger Stadium Fan Club, successfully appealed to Romulus city officials to oppose Monaghan's new stadium effort as well as Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara's restaurant-hotel tax bid to help pay for such a new stadium.

Gruber is currently leading an effort to collect 70,000 Wayne County residents' signatures on petitions in order to place a referendum on the November ballot that would prohibit the collection of any tax or fee or the issuance of any bonds for the construction of a new professional baseball stadium.

As a prelude to his request Monday night, Gruber explained the Tiger Stadium Fan Club, organized in 1987, is 11,000 members strong and supports a major renovation of the existing Tiger Stadium rather than a new stadium.

Gruber said, "Wayne County had much more pressing needs today than to spend hundreds of millions of dollars to bail out one of the richest men in the United States and his baseball empire."

Jimmie Raspberry

Gruber also charged, "McNamara has become the point man for the new stadium effort. It would take more than $612 million dollars to pay back the projected bonds needed to construct a new stadium."

For the purposes of pushing the anti-new stadium referendum, Gruber has established a group called "Citizens Against Stadium Taxes" and is distributing petitions throughout Wayne County. More information is available by writing Post Office Box 441426, Detroit, 48244-1426.

Councilman Jimmie Raspberry declared he liked baseball and the Tigers—even though they are losing. "But I oppose subsidizing Detroit sports. I also like (Detroit Mayor) Coleman Young, but think it is time he steps down and gives someone else a chance to run the city."

Councilman Ellis Pennington also opposed using taxpayers' money to build a ballfield in Detroit.

A word of caution came from Councilman Noah Bergeron, "I don't want to add to Monaghan's millions either, but do we want to lose the Tigers?"

Bergeron continued "I don't want to pay the extra tax, but I don't want to lose the Tigers either."

Raspberry countered, "The Pistons left (Detroit), the Lions left and despite the crocodile tears, we're still here. I haven't been inside Tiger stadium in 45 years. Now ask me again about that tax."

Mayor Pro Tem Mary Ann Banks also opposed the stadium tax concept stating, "Michigan already is the highest taxed state in the nation."

The bid to support Gruber's effort won a unanimous 5-0 vote with Councilman Russell Lambert also backing the effort. Two councilmen, Randolph Gear and William Wadsworth, were absent from the meeting.

Gruber then praised Mayor Beverly McNamara and the City Council for refusing to join McNamara's "dog and pony show effort" on the new stadium. He said he fully expected to get the needed signatures by the Aug. 11 deadline. "But if we don't we will set our targets on the next deadline, Jan. 15."

Veteran trustee steps down

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Veteran Romulus Community School Board member Kenneth Berlinn gracefully bowed out of his role as board member Monday night by urging his fellow board members to continue working to "make the Romulus School District Number One in the United States."

Berlinn, 57, who failed in his fourth re-election bid earlier this month, wished good luck to Debra Hoffman, a challenger who won a seat on the board, as well as all the current board members.

Hoffman will assume her seat on the board in July.

Berlinn, who has been on the school board since 1981, quietly told the board and school administrators, "As we all are aware, this is my last board meeting. I want all of you up here to know that it has been a pleasure working with you for the education of our Romulus young people."

"We have been through a number of difficult times together and also some good times," he said.

Berlinn, who has been president and vice president of the board, cited the last couple of years as the most exciting of his 10 years and 11 months on the board. "This was the time," he said, "when we began to consider the dream of going into the year 2000 with technology in education."

In 1990 the school board sought and gained voter approval for a $45 million referendum geared to advancing computer education programs throughout the entire Romulus School system.

Berlinn said he wants to stay involved in the education process in Romulus and would like to be considered when volunteers are needed for committees or team projects.

Berlinn concluded by thanking those who supported him during his long stint on the school board. "You are the greatest friends a person could ask for. God bless you."

Berlinn earlier had also stated that beginning the successful Partnership with Education program was also one of his key projects. The partnership program, headed by Ed Clark, has brought together Romulus business leaders, teachers and students in a unique teamwork program in recent years.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell praised Berlinn. "He is a quiet person who always was there when the community needed him. He did a lot outside the community selling Romulus' role on the county, state and national level."

Bedell continued, "He was one of those board members who superintendents love because their instincts are always positive. The community and I will miss him. But thank goodness he is willing to remain here as a volunteer."

State buys city property

The state of Michigan request to buy five parcels of land owned by the city of Romulus for a total of $35,025 was approved by members of the city council Monday night.

The state is purchasing the properties in the Middlebelt and Garner Street area to make a major redesign of the access ramps there for the I-94 roadways.

The parcels range in price from $125 to $20,000. The sale earlier had been recommended by the city Property Disposition Committee and was approved by a unanimous 5-0 vote. In a separate transaction, the city sold a city owned homesite on Border Street, a private street, to Mark S. Gholston of Belleville for $1,000 with the stipulation that a home be constructed on the property within two years.

Sumpter to host annual car show

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Auto enthusiasts will have one more reason to attend the annual Sumpter Country Fest when the third annual car show is staged during the July 15-19 event.

Antique, classic, sports and muscle cars will be on display from noon to 4 p.m. July 19 at the Sumpter Community Center, 23501 Sumpter Road, corner of Dunn Road.

Owners of vintage and classic cars and trucks, muscle cars, sports cars and street rods are invited to bring their cars to the festival, said event organizers.

A People's Choice trophy will be awarded and dash plaques will be given to the first 20 cars entered in the show. There is no entry fee and door prizes will be given.

Information is available by calling 699-5275 or 461-6201.

2 area preps named to All-Star football lineup Hister, Hagelthorn make East Division team

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Two local high school stars, who ended brilliant football careers in June, were named last week to play in the Michigan High School East-West All-Star Football Classic.

The game, sponsored by the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association, will be staged 1:30 p.m. Aug. 1 in Spartan Stadium at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

The local stars, both All-State and All-Area nominees, are Leon Hister and Jason Hagelthorn.

Hister is a 5-10, 185-pound tailback who hails from Plymouth South. The outstanding running back was coached by Tom Moshimer.

Hagelthorn is a 6-3, 236-pound two-way tackle who was a sterling performer for the Rockets at Westland John Glenn. During his four-year varsity career, Hagelthorn was coached by Chuck Gordon.

Both Hagelthorn and Hister have full-ride athletic college scholarships.

Launched in 1981 by the MHSAA football coaches, the All-Star game has turned into a summer classic that features some of the top prep football talent in the state and also the future stars of the collegiate gridiron.

According to the coaches' association, the purpose of the game is, "First promote high school football in the state of Michigan and, secondly, generate money for the MHSFCA scholarship fund."

Last year, the West edged its counterparts from the East, 15-12. However, the East has won six of the 11 times the series has been conducted.

Each division will have 44 players in their respective lineup. All-Stars are nominated by high school coaches who are affiliated with the MHSFC. If a player is selected to participate in the All-Star Game, he is then contacted to see if he wants to participate. Since the inception 11 years ago, 95 percent of all players who have been nominated have agreed to compete in the classic.

This year, the classic is also sponsored by General Motors Parts, General Motors Corporation, Pontiac Division, Oldsmobile Division, Buick Division, Little Caesar's, Lazy Boy, Blue Cross-Blue Shield, and the Farm Bureau.

Tickets may be purchased at the gate on the day of the game. They are priced at $6.

Canton skater to tour Russia

A Canton Township skater will make history this month when she travels to Russia to compete in the first American-Russian women's hockey tournament.

Stacy Churhan is one of two young area skaters who were included in the 18-women roster that will represent the United States.

The All-Star women's team will gather in St. Petersburg, previously known as Leningrad, to compete against teams representing Russia, the Ukraine, Finland, Estonia, and Latvia.

It is the first time in Russian history that a women's ice hockey tournament involving foreign teams is being staged. The tournament was scheduled to get under way on June 20 and will continue until a champion is crowned June 27.

Stacy is a student at the University of Liggett School.

According to the tournament organizers, "This is an historic event which developed after visiting Russian hockey officials observed a game between the Michigan Capitals Midgets and the Metro Jets Senior B team in March.

At that time, the official, Leonid Mikhno, president of the St. Petersburg's Club Troika and an official with the Red Army Hockey Organization, vowed to start and promote organized women's ice hockey in the USSR."

The White Nights Tournament is the direct result of the commitment. The name stems from the fact that during the latter part of June, there is "no night" or darkness in St. Petersburg.

It is time to register

There is still time to register for Little League football and soccer.

The Westland Youth Athletic Association is accepting registration from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Saturday for its 1992 Little League football teams, the Meteors and Comets.

Prospective players may sign up at the WYAA Lange Compound, located at 6050 Farmington Road.

For further information, please contact Keith DeMolay at 722-1251 or Roy Harper at 595-6444.

Placement on the teams is subject to the player's weight. There also is a $30 registration fee.

The Van Buren Typhoons also are signing up players for the 1992 soccer season.

Those seeking more information should contact Coach Dale Travis at 941-5479.

State champs

The Canton Express captured the Michigan State Cup in soccer and qualified to compete for the national nationals which will be staged in July in Canton, Ohio. The local kickers disposed of Portage, Macomb, Sterling Heights and Troy to claim the coveted trophy. Displaying the first-place trophy are team representatives Michael Cische, (at left) who is a student at St. Anthony's in Belleville, and Ryan Szyndlar, a South Middle School (Belleville) student. The Express is coached by George Demergis. ANP Special Photo

Canton sets dates for tennis tourney

If you think your tennis game is rounding out into shape, you may want to consider playing in the annual Canton Township tournament to see just how good your game is.

Canton Township recreation officials this week announced the dates for their popular singles/doubles tournament. Competition will be staged July 10-12, and registration is presently in progress.

Tennis players may sign up in person or by mail. Mail entries to Canton Parks and Recreation Services, 1150 S. Canton Center Road, Canton, Mich. 48188.

The deadline to register is 5 p.m. July 8.

Matches will be played on the Plymouth-Canton High School tennis courts. There is a $7 per person, per event, registration fee.

Each participant will also be required to furnish a new can of United States Tennis Association approved tennis balls. Players will be required to compete under the USTA rules.

The tournament will be divided into the following divisions, according to age groups: For males: 10-12, 13-15, 16-19, 20-29, 30-39, 40-49 and 50-and over; females: 10-12, 13-15, 16-19, 20-over and 40-over.

In doubles competitions, the divisions are: Males - 15 and under; 16- over and 35-over; Females - 15 and under; women Opens.

The format to decide the single elimination winners is a two out of three sets match with a 12-point tie-breaker played at 6-6.

Prospective participants who need further details are urged to contact the recreation offices at 397-5110.

An ace on Father's Day

Mark Maretka of Belleville thought he would pay for a round of golf as a gift to his father, Frank, on Father's Day.

Neighbor Keith Breithaupt decided to tag along.

The threesome traveled to Washtenaw County Country Club on Sunday for 18-holes of golf, despite the chilly weather.

And 41-year-old Mark was repaid for his gesture by scoring his first hole-in-one.

Maretka aced the 135-yard 12th hole, using a 9-iron.

"He's been playing since he was a child," said Mark's mother. "And this is his first hole-in-one. He was elated."

However, Maretka apparently was not too happy with his final score. He finished the 18-holes with an 89. His game apparently fell apart after scoring the ace.

Nationals next Inkster sprinter continues to shine

Overcoming an injury to her leg and battling the elements, Inkster High sophomore Charnell Lynn continued to sparkle in the sprints.

Lynn, one of the upcoming young sprinters in the state, captured a gold medal in the 400-meters on Saturday in a state-qualifying Region V meet. She dashed to a 1:00 flat finish to easily win the event.

The victory will place the Inkster speedster in the national regionals to be staged July 11-12. She will be competing against athletes from Indiana, West Virginia, Kentucky, Michigan and Ohio.

"Lately, she has been hampered with that injury," said Keith Bailey, Inkster Track Club coach. "But she is coming around. She's about 90 percent well right now."

Bailey took 24 athletes to the state meet staged at Ypsilanti Lincoln High School. The Inkster coach said that the track conditions were unbearable "because of the cold and the icy winds."

The Inkster Track Club also picked up a first-place medal thanks to the efforts of its 400-meter relay team. The foursome of Ellissia Johnson, Lynn, Rameka Gibson and Kateisha Frazier coasted to a 51.3 and the gold.

"We beat some good people," Bailey said. "Our kids looked good."

Gibson brought home a bronze medal for her efforts in the long jump. She leaped 14 feet, 7 inches. She also finished sixth in the 100-meter dash with a 13.3. Teammate Frazier was third in that event with a 13.1.

Bailey, and assistant coaches Al Wagner and Arnett Gipsom, plan to take their team to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. High School on Saturday to compete in the Motor City Classic.

Romulus coach says '92 was 'a turnaround' year

With their first winning record since 1985 behind them, Romulus coach Don Foley is looking to the future and seeing the proverbial light at the end of the tunnel.

"This is the first time since 1985 that our varsity team has posted a winning season," said Foley, reflecting on the 13-10 won-lost season. "I am pleased with the overall effort this year, especially since the kids went 7-2 during the last two weeks of the season."

Foley, who completed his third year as head coach, said he looked at 1992 as a turnaround year for the team.

"I feel we turned the corner with our program. We had only four returning lettermen back this year and managed to come up with a better than .500 record. Next year we will have the nucleus to field a very competitive team," Foley believes.

The Eagles wrapped up the season by splitting a twin bill with former conference rival, Ann Arbor Pioneer. Romulus won the opener 7-3 thanks to Ron Yount's three-hit pitching performance. They dropped the nightcap 16-4 as the Pioneers exploded in the late innings to runaway with the decision.

Foley and the Eagles brought the curtains down on the 1992 campaign by sweeping both ends of a doubleheader from neighboring New Boston Huron.

Senior right-hander Jim Dufore scattered eight hits to pick up a 13-7 victory. In the second game, Bob Bergeron went the distance to chalk up his first win of the season, 6-2. Bergeron notched nine strikeouts and walked three in hurling a five-hitter.

Loser Eric Guntow also tossed a five-hitter.

In that first game, junior catcher Michael Grube hammered his first grand slam homer, the blast coming off of Huron hurler Jason Trombly with Mark Harden, John Toliver and Mike Barwikowski aboard.

In the victory over Pioneer, Romulus' junior right-hander Ron Yount had a shutout going for him until the top of the sixth when Ann Arbor came back and scored two runs. The Eagles tallied three in the same inning to give Yount a 7-2 cushion entering the final stanza.

Yount helped his own cause with a double and a homer in the second inning with Mike Barwikowski aboard.

Chris Evans also collected three hits, including a solo HR, for the winners.

In the nightcap, Foley started Brian Bartholomew who lasted four innings and gave up 10 of the 16 runs.

The Eagles tied the game at three-all in the bottom of the first thanks to singles by Don Zemke, Joe Kusibab and Rick Luczak and walks to Tim Howell and Dudonis.

Dudonis set a school record in the fourth when he laced one over the Pioneer fence for his sixth homer of the season.

Tae Kwon Do Local athletes claim share of medals

More than 100 Tae Kwon Do specialists converged upon the Marriott Hotel in Romulus recently to participate in the 1992 Michigan AAU Tae Kwon Do championships.

The championships were promoted by Black Belt Carl Tate of Inkster, who serves as the state chairman in the sport.

Tae Kwon Do, the Korean answer to the Japanese art of self-defense known as karate, will be an exhibition sport at the Olympic Games in Spain.

"We had people from all parts of the United States and Canada competing in this tournament," said Tate, who has earned the title of "master" of the sport. "I felt that our local participants fared well."

"The only negative aspect of this is that there was not too much publicity given to the tournament, and that is unfortunate considering New York, Iowa, Ohio, Michigan, and Windsor, Ont.

were represented."

Tate was elected the state chairman of the Michigan Taekwondo Association. His cousin, Gregory Hill, also of Inkster, was picked to serve as vice chairman.

Other officers include area coordinators: Samuel Doyle, Rob Torp, Richard Wheeler, along with Douglas Bourgeois, state arbitrator, and Belinda Holliday, secretary-treasurer.

Local and area competitors earned their share of medals: In the Beginner's Division - Todd Latz placed first and Robert Strong was runner-up for 17 and 18 year olds; In the mandatory forms division: Clifton Edwards placed first, second and third were Jeremy McKinney and Robert McKinney, respectively, for 6, 7, and 8-year olds.

James Haley earned a gold medal and Tony

Golfing lessons offered

Westland Golf Course Manager Robert Kosowski and Sie Willis, PGA pro, will be among the instructors offering tips to junior golfers.

Lessons will be offered Tuesday and Thursday, starting July 14 and ending Aug. 6. The first class will meet at the Maplewood Community Center, 31735 Maplewood, Garden City.

The lessons are geared for junior golfers, ages 7 and up. There is a $25 registration fee for the eight lessons.

Registration will be accepted from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and at noon to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Class will include basic instruction of golf swing. Organizers said that there may be a possible extra cost for hitting balls and round of golf at the Westland Golf Course.

Those wishing further information should telephone 525-8846.

Hotshot contest on

The Hotshot Basketball Tournament is on. The Canton Parks and Recreation Services is sponsoring the Hotshot tournament at three separate locations to find the best shot in the township.

The contest will be staged July 9 at Hoben, and July 13 at Eriksson. Those who missed the first two contests will find the action on July 15 at Hulsing.

The shooting will begin at noon. And cagers are asked to register on site at 11:45 a.m.

Boys and girls will be competing in the following age groups: 9-11; 12-14 and 15-18.

Participants test their basketball skills from various spots on the court and points are awarded for accuracy. The player who compiles the most points is declared the winner.

Awards will be presented to the winners of each age division. For more information about this popular summer activity, contact the recreation department at 397-5110.

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

Housing seminar slated Saturday

A seminar to aid persons planning to build homes in Romulus is planned at 9 a.m. Saturday at the Beverly House of God Church, 34156 Beverly Road.

The seminar is being sponsored by Bob Taepke, owner of Taepke Electric-Builders in New Boston. Taepke received approval from members of the Romulus City Council to build 60 houses north of Fourth Street and Beverly Road.

The single family homes will cost a minimum of $65,000.

Several home building and banking officials will be on hand to speak to those in attendance.

Coffee and donuts will be available at 8:30 a.m.

Those interested in attending the seminar, must call 1-313-782-23000 to make reservations for the session.

Circus comes to town Aug. 20

The Franzen Brothers Circus will be offering two performances in Romulus Aug. 20 under the sponsorship of the Greater Romulus Chamber of Commerce.

The performances will be at 5:30 and 8 p.m. Tickets will cost $5 in advance for all ages and $6 at the gate.

The circus performance site will be the football field near the area of the old South Junior High on Olive Street, south of the police station.

Tickets can be purchased in advance at the chamber office and the city treasurer's office at City Hall.

Senior Olympics sign-ups readied

Romulus area senior citizens are being alerted to the fact it is now sign up time for the Downriver Senior Olympics, which will be Aug. 3-7. Various events are being scheduled for all ages.

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded at an official banquet. Registration is available at the Romulus Senior Center.

Story sessions begin in July

A Tuesday evening story time program is planned during July and August at the Romulus Library.

The program for children 3 years and older will be at 7 p.m. July 14, 21 and 28 and Aug. 4. Families need to register at the library by calling 942-7589.

Library volunteer Marjorie Bock will be the reader.

Taylor University student graduates

Treg Gilstorf of Romulus graduated from Taylor University in Upland, Ind. with a degree in business administration.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Gilstorf and a graduate of Romulus High School.

Taylor is a Christian liberal arts institution.

Senior center plans yard sale

Romulus area senior citizens wishing to sell items at the upcoming yard sale at the Senior Center July 10 are urged to reserve a free table as soon as possible.

The sale will take place from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Holiday Inn helps reading program

A family read-a-loud program is currently being sponsored by the Holiday Inn in Romulus.

Families interested in participating must have at least one person enrolled in the Romulus Library summer reading program.

The program continues June 22 to Aug. 7 and at the end of that period a drawing will determine which family wins a free weekend at the Holiday.

For more information contact the Romulus Library at 942-7589.

Veteran's monument dedication July 4th

A loud cannon blast will sound at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, July 4 marking the official dedication of the long-awaited $35,000 Romulus Veterans Memorial on the Wayne Road side of Romulus City Hall.

Bill Crane, a Rotarian and Chamber of Commerce director, who has been the driving force behind the volunteer project, will discharge the miniature Michigan-made cannon. On hand also will be many members of the Romulus Rotary Club, the official sponsor of the memorial effort.

At least 240 of the planned 1,000 bronze colored bricks installed in and around the monument have already been sold and designated to honor Romulus area veterans, both alive and dead, and their supporters, Crane said.

Bricks bearing the names of veterans of any United States war or military engagement were installed in the base of the actual monument, Crane explained.

Bricks bearing the names of other persons are being placed in the walkway surrounding the monument.

The monument will also bear numerous medallions citing all five branches of the U.S. armed forces, local Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts 1869 and 9568, Mayor Beverly McAnally and the city council members, the Romulus Rotary Club and numerous other civic organizations.

The modernistic-style monument will be illuminated by seven fixtures at night, Crane said.

A separate light will be focused on each of the three flag poles bearing flags of the United States, state of Michigan and city of Romulus.

Two other pairs of lights will illuminate both sides of the monument.

Volunteers also dug up the Sesquicentennial capsule originally buried in 1985 and reburied it in front of the hedge row. The capsule bearing numerous mementoes from the 1985 era will be identified with a granite and bronze marker. It is scheduled to be officially unearthed in the year 2035.

Eighty flats of flowers and ornamental shrubs will be planted around the monument and new sod will be installed in the immediate surrounding area.

Members of the Romulus Junior and Senior high school bands will perform during the half hour dedication program on July 4. Also participating will be McAnally and Councilman Randolph Gear, who was mayor pro tem at the initiation of the project, the Rev. J.D. Landis of the Community United Methodist Church, the Rev. Charles P. Woolridge of the First Baptist Church as well as Crane and other project activists.

Assisting in the project were Rotarian and Veteran of Foreign Wars members including Bill Wrijil, Bill Crovas, Cass Kasterek, Delton Block, J.R. Whaley and David McCrory. Dadsons Electric Co. also donated free labor at the site, Crane said.

City wins assessment case

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The authority of the City of Romulus to assess taxes on 350 acres of unused farmland owned by Wayne County was upheld last week by the Michigan Tax Tribunal in Lansing and may lead to sorely needed new housing construction in Romulus, a city official said Thursday.

The farmland, formerly used to raise food for the Wayne County General Hospital, is located in the southwest area of Van Born and Merriman roads.

For six years, Wayne County rented out the land to a private farming operation which ceased operations there in 1986. Since then the land has remained unused.

Romulus City Assessor Matthew Raftary said that the city began assessing the property in 1984, long after the county stopped using the site for producing the bulk of the food consumed at the local hospital in the 1950s.

Raftary said in addition to adding revenue to local government coffers, a second reason for the assessment plan was to encourage Wayne County to sell the land to a private party.

The property is zoned single-family residential, Raftary said, and in addition to residential homes the city hopes that recreation and commercial establishments can be established there.

Currently Wayne County pays about $40,000 in taxes on the property with about $27,700 going to the Romulus School District, $6,000 to the City of Romulus and the remainder to other taxing bodies.

The Tax Tribunal declared, "Wayne County claims that the fact that it owns the property constitutes a public purpose. We reject that contention."

The tribunal opinion further stated, "The Michigan Supreme Court settled this issue long ago in two cases involving exemption statutes very similar" to this case.

"The court held that not only is the public purpose criteria controlling for public subdivisions seeking exemptions, but the exempt property must be presently used for a public purpose, not merely held for a future intended public purpose.

"Even if (Wayne County) had claimed a valid public purpose was being (accomplished) by the (holding of) property, it is unlikely that we would find any public benefit is derived from the county holding the large tracts of fallow farm line and denying the public access to that land."

The opinion concluded, "Wayne County admits that no public purpose is served by the subject property, other than the fact that it is owned by the county. This is clearly not enough. The petitioner is not entitled to an exemption."

Firefighter tax hike looms

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The language for a proposed Romulus Fire Department 2-mill tax hike was approved Monday night, but the date that voters will be given a chance to cast their verdict on the request remains unclear.

Council members approved the millage referendum May 4, but the language of the proposal must be approved by the state attorney general's office, be signed by Gov. John Engler and then be submitted to Wayne County for inclusion on a specified ballot.

City Clerk Linda Choate told council members Monday night that they had until Aug. 25 to place the millage question on the November ballot. Or, Choate explained, the fire department could wait until the March election.

As there was no representative of the local firefighters present at the meeting and Councilman Russell Lambert, who was assigned to monitor the firefighter's millage planning sessions said he was unaware of a specific date firefighters had targeted for the tax question, the language was approved by council members without a voting day listed.

The approved ballot language states: "In order to provide funds for the operation and maintenance of the fire department, shall the city of Romulus amend the charter to raise a tax limitation that may be imposed for all purposes upon property in the city of Romulus, Wayne County, Michigan, by no more than 2 mills ($2 for each $1,000) of state equalized value for all property within the city to solely provide funds for the operation and maintenance of the fire department?"

There was discussion at the meeting that firefighters may want to delay the question, as voters are now in a "bite the bullet" mode. It was suggested that the question be placed on a special election ballot next spring that will not contain other issues.

First of 60 homes up for sale

With the first of 60 homes already completed in the Fourth Street and Beverly Road area, residential building contractor Bob Taepke said his firm is prepared to go the extra mile to have a quality neighborhood constructed in Romulus.

Considering the housing development chance offered to him by the city of Romulus "a first class opportunity", Taepke said the current home constructed has three bedrooms, a complete kitchen and 1,040 square feet of interior space. It is already for sale priced at $67,500.

While the almond-colored house has no basement, Taepke said, a garage can be added if the owner desires. It sits on a 75 foot property and falls in the Cory Elementary School District.

If, however, a large number of grade-school children move into that area, school officials said some students could be transferred to either Wick or Hale-Creek elementary schools.

Taepke's family has been in business since 1926. The New Boston said the current lots available range from 75 to 150 feet and the homes are of multiple styles and varieties.

A field office will be established at the site by mid-July, Taepke said, and homes will become available within 90 to 120 days after an agreement is reached.

Taepke is hosting a seminar this Saturday (see related item in the Romulus Digest on page 3).

Taepke hopes to have all the 60 potential homesites sold and occupied within four years, he said.

Public hearing on drain asked

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

Members of the Romulus City Council are recommending that the Wayne County Drain Commissioner schedule a public hearing on a Traux drain enclosure proposal that could cost $830,000.

Residents of the Applewood and Meadowdale subdivisions reportedly petitioned the city in the past year to have the county enclose the Truax drain which is currently filled with heavy vegetation and stagnant water.

Residents in the past have complained to the city about mosquitoes, snakes and other small animals inhabiting the drain.

Since the cost of the drain improvements would be passed on to the homeowners via a special assessment, the city arranged to have an engineering study done on the project.

The $830,000 cost figure was given by Orchard, Hiltz and McCliment Inc., a consulting engineer firm hired by the city, and raised concerns that the cost was more than residents could afford to pay.

Dennis Oakes, Romulus community development director, said the city feels it might be better for the county to clean out the drain rather than enclose it.

But prior to that, the city is recommending that a public hearing of affected homeowners be scheduled to obtain views on the drain needs.

Merriman to be widened

An effort to relieve the traffic bottleneck around Metro Airport will begin soon with the widening of Merriman Road to five lanes between Ecorse and Van Born Roads.

Wayne County Commissioner Bryan Amann revealed that county commissioners voted June 18 to provide compensation totaling $36,800 to buy the necessary easement rights from the adjoining property owners.

"This will make travel much more convenient for those living around and using the airport," Amann said, "and the improvements should also stop flood waters from covering Merriman at Beverly Road, which has been a traffic hazard for years."

Amann said, "This is the last hurdle to beginning construction. The remaining technical and legal work will be completed this summer," he said, "and the construction should be completed by spring of 1993."

He concluded "I'm certain the residents of Romulus, Wayne and Westland will be pleased with the completed project."

Summer means work for resident

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

While most people expect a break from work in the summer, Sharon Gebo takes on a summertime job every year. A park attendant at the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) dock in Van Buren Township, Gebo looks forward to days in the sun each summer as she performs her work.

"I like to keep busy, so I don't stay in the booth all the time. I go around the park and clean up when I'm not collecting fees," Gebo said. "I've worked at the DNR dock for three summers and I really like it. I enjoy meeting people and I find that most of them are friendly. Many of them remember me from past years."

Gebo takes pride in keeping the facility spick and span during her working hours.

"If people come here and find that the park isn't clean, they won't be back, and we want them to continue to come here," Gebo said. "It's a beautiful park and the view of the lake is wonderful from the shore. It's a pretty place to work. Just look around, everything is clean and nice here."

Gebo enjoys the outdoor life, and appreciates the opportunity to obtain a suntan on the job.

"I tried to work in the winter, but I hated to drive on the icy roads. Now, I just work in the summertime," Gebo said. Gebo said the DNR hires students and older individuals to provide summer help during the boating season.

The facility on Huron River Drive is open from 7 a.m. until 10 p.m. seven days a week through the boating season.

Helping Lions' contributions aid center for blind children

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

A unique center for blind children is partially funded by dollars that are dropped into Lions Club canisters.

"About 30 percent of the program is funded through Lions Clubs in two local districts," said Bob Cook, a member of the Belleville Lions Club and a Penrickton Center for Blind Children board member. "There are 100 or more clubs in the districts 11A-1 and 11A-2, and some of the donations that they receive from the annual White Cane and candy cane sales are earmarked for the Penrickton Center."

Cook noted that the private, non-profit residential and day care center serves blind children with multiple handicaps. No fees are charged and financial support comes from the Lions plus individual and corporate donations and foundation allocations.

"This truly is a unique center. In fact, it is the only one in the country," Cook said.

The center was established in 1952 by three families - the Penmans, Rickers and Wiggins - and the Taylor Lions Club as a day nursery for blind pre-schoolers because no program existed to serve them. The name of the center is derived from the names of the three families.

In the past 40 years, Penrickton Center has changed to meet the needs of the community. Currently, it specializes in treating blind children ages one to 12 with at least one additional handicap, such as deafness, cerebral palsy, brain damage, emotional disturbance or mental retardation, Cook said.

Most of the children stay at the center from Sunday night through Friday and return home for weekends and holidays.

The center provides the following services to children and their families:

- Occupational therapy,
- Nursing
- Developmental programming
- Social work
- Dance and music therapy
- Training in self-care skills (dressing, eating and grooming) plus motor skills, language skills plus public education programs.

• Speech and language orientation on a consultation basis

Services are offered to children who are able to attend a school program. Only exclusions are children with chronic communicable diseases or those who require total nursing care.

Additional information about the program is available by contacting Kurt Sebaly, executive director, or Janet Ames, assistant director between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

Warm weather means tornado season

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

While warm weather is welcomed by area residents, the arrival of balmy temperatures also herald the peak of the tornado season.

"At the same time that we are welcoming the warm weather, we must be prepared for the tornado season and take precautions to minimize the possible risks associated with tornadoes, especially now through the end of July," said Van Buren Township Public Safety Director Mark Perkins.

"Most tornadoes occur during the mid-afternoon or early evening period, but they can occur at any time of the day," said Perkins, noting that the months of April through July are the times when tornadoes more frequently occur.

"Twenty-five tornadoes were reported in Wayne County between 1950 and 1991. Only Lenawee County with 27 tornado reports and Genesee County with 26 have recorded higher totals in the state," Perkins said. "A tornado is nature's most violent storm. Severe damage can be done by winds of 100 to 200 miles per hour and by the hail that often accompanies it. Injuries and deaths also can result from flying debris resulting from the high winds."

The public safety director said residents should become aware of the differences between a tornado watch and a tornado warning and the steps to take when one or the other is announced.

"When a tornado watch is announced, it means that conditions are right for the development of a tornado. At this time, residents should stay tuned to a local radio or television station for further announcements and gather a first aid kit, flashlight and a portable radio plus additional batteries," Perkins said. "A tornado warning means that a tornado has actually been sighted nearby. When a warning is announced, residents should seek shelter immediately either in a basement or in a small room or closet on the lowest floor."

Tornadoes generally develop from severe thunderstorms, according to the Michigan Committee for Severe Weather Awareness. Twisters are more likely to occur when there is unseasonably warm and humid air on the surface of the earth and cold air at middle atmospheric levels and strong upper-level jet stream winds.

If a tornado threatens, stay away from doors, windows and outside walls.

Lots of laughs, audience participation and off-beat comedy magic make Gary Thison's act a real crowd pleaser. Gary's clean, original comedy monologues are based on real-life experiences — his and yours. His magic is...well...different! And very, very funny.

"My Favorite Local Funnyman" — Tom Greenwood, Detroit News
"One of Detroit's Favorite Comedians" — Detroit Monthly Magazine
"He has a lot of potential, if he'd just stop trying to be a comedian." — Gary's Ninth Grade English Teacher
"That's very nice dear, but have you gotten a job with benefits yet?" — Gary's Mother

Opinion

Prevailing wage could prove costly

Apparently, some people still haven't gotten the message voters attempted to send so loudly during recent elections.

The people who pay taxes and place the mantle of responsibility for government spending on the shoulders of elected delegates are more than a bit weary of any irresponsible or ill-judged decisions. They are demanding accountability and a degree of reasonableness not known in this country in decades.

Elected officials in Wayne would do well to heed that message.

While attempting to respond to the "suggestion" of powerful unions who spend obscene amounts of money to help elect candidates who favor their positions, some Wayne council members may have irked the very people they, and those unions, purport to represent.

The issue is the proposal under discussion in Wayne which would require that all contractors submitting bids for city contracts subscribe to the "prevailing wage" paid to their workers. That is, in most cases, a euphemism for doing business only with union shops or those paying union wages.

Proponents of the measure argue effectively that this will preserve jobs for union members and prevent the loss of employment to those union brothers and sisters who deserve to be represented against their oppressive and unethical employers who would underpay and mistreat them without such intervention. They claim this is the American way.

We say phooey.

We have seen the figures prepared by the city offices which clearly demonstrate the increased costs of nearly every city service. Who will pay for this? We think we know. It will be the taxpayer who will then demand to know why other city services must be cut in order to pay more for these contracted jobs. How many unionized police officers will have to be cut from the force to fund the sidewalk repair program? How many firefighters will be laid off because members of the city council chose to pay more than necessary for building repairs or construction?

Do these council members really think voters will stand for this? We think not. We do not consider this the American way at all.

The American way is a fair days work for a fair days pay. The American way is allowing anyone of any race, creed or color to have a fair chance at starting a business of their own and remaining in business, providing they are doing a good job.

The American way is not to control small businessmen who depend on city contracts for their livelihood. This prevailing wage proposal will place the unions in the very position they claim oppressive to their members—that is one of controlling, unfairly, wages and methods of doing business. We feel, frankly, this may border on a restraint of trade.

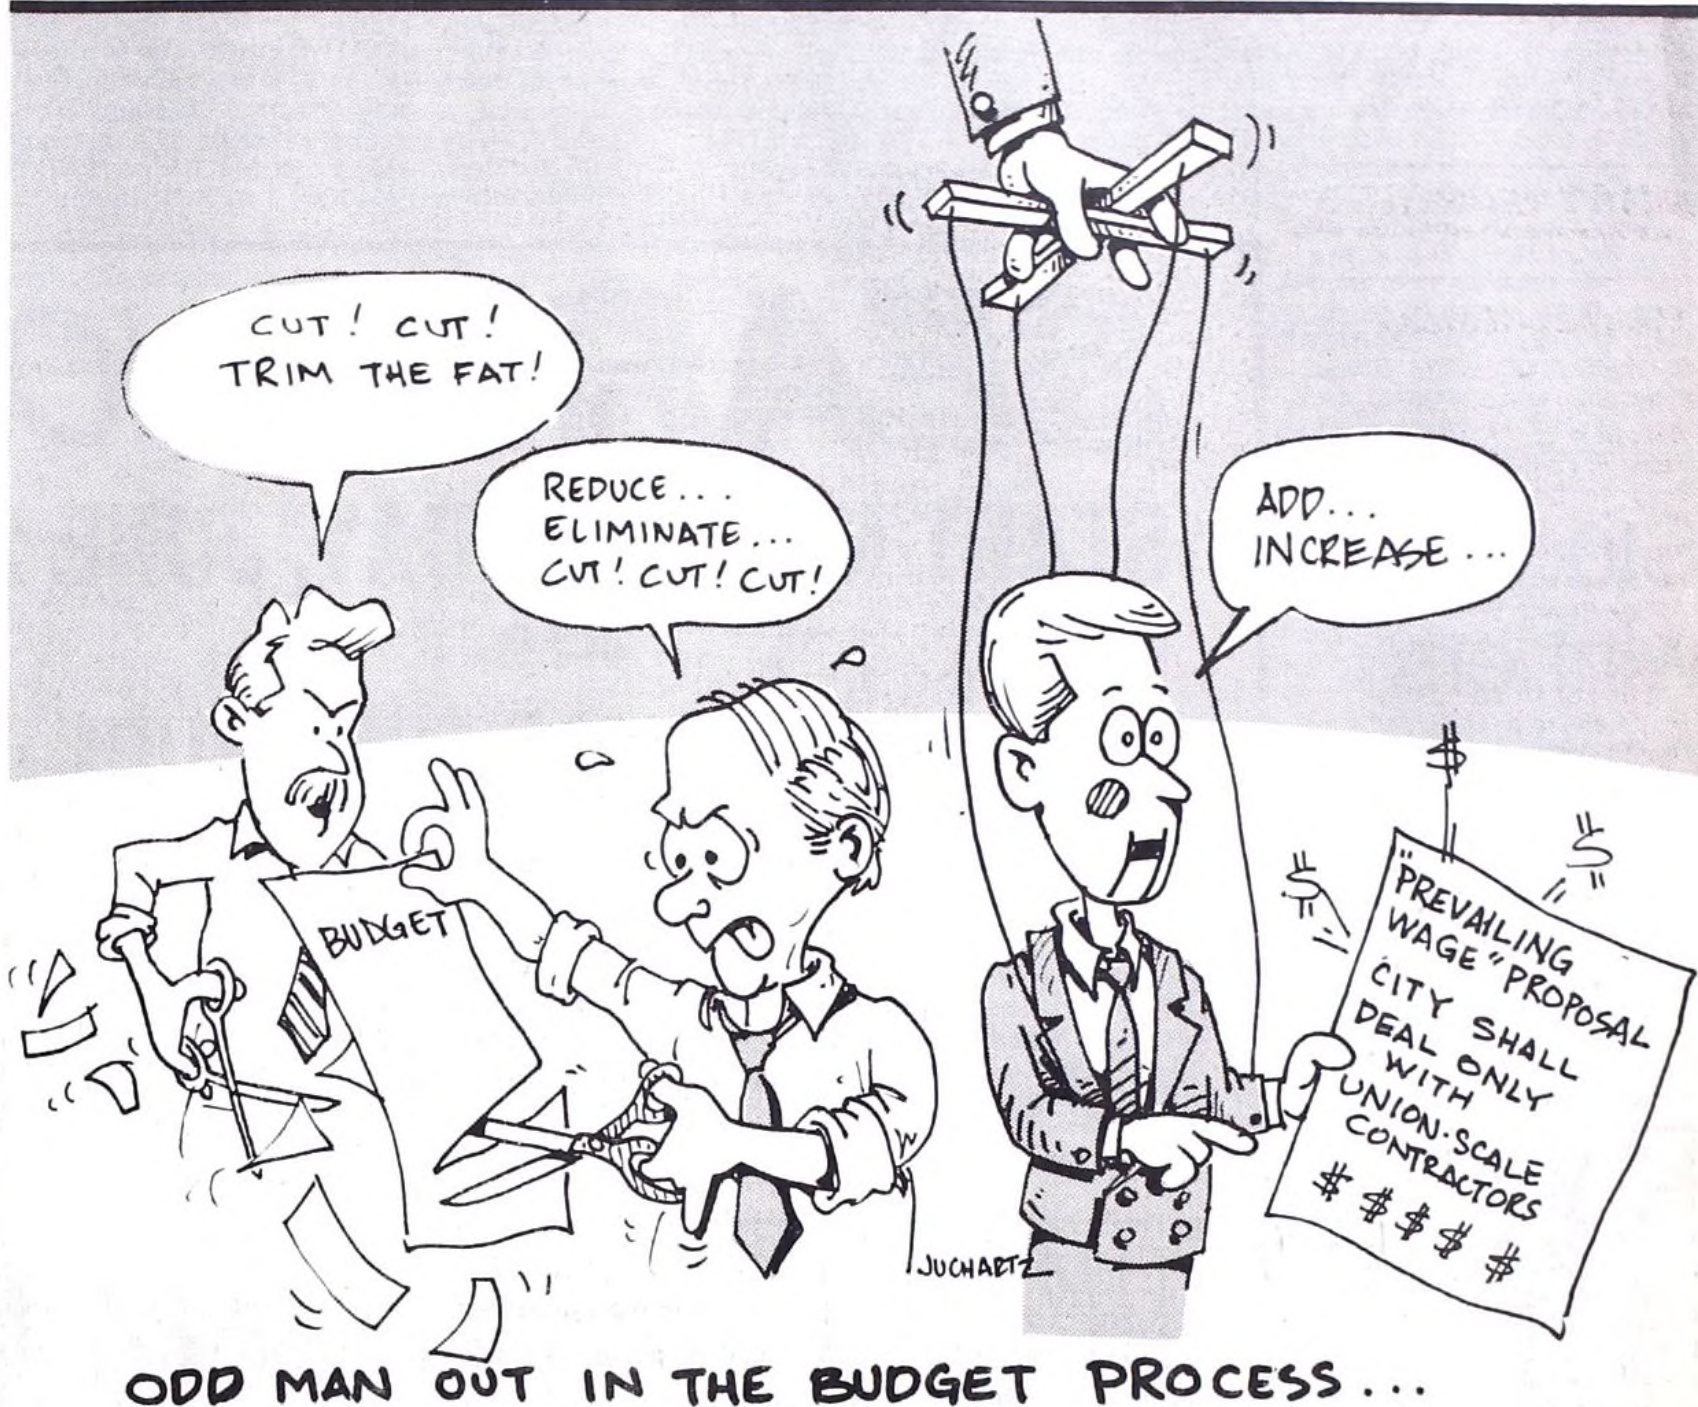

Small businessmen, who now provide nearly 90 percent of the jobs in this state, despite what autoworkers may think, deserve an opportunity to continue to take the risks and bear the responsibilities and jeopardy involved in business ownership. They do not deserve to be at the mercy of the same type of bargaining as do the automakers or large corporations.

While we are certainly not for the abolition of unions and support many of them in their efforts and their purpose, we feel that this proposal will prove detrimental to all involved.

Unions serve a viable purpose in this country and many workers owe their jobs and their employment to them. But they cannot be allowed to become the very entity they were formed against. They cannot be allowed to undermine the very system they were designed to protect.

We strongly urge the members of the Wayne City Council, no matter what campaign debts they may owe to their union contributors, to think long and carefully about this legislation.

Voters are already angry and watchful. This could, indeed, become a prevailing rage.

Election proves voters' power

To the editor:
"You can fool some of the people, some of the time, and some of the people all of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

How true those words are. As a senior citizen in Westland, I am truly sorry for all the hurt that has been given to so many people in the Wayne-Westland schools and for those of us in the city of Westland.

Many of the people have said, "Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek controls the senior citizens," and she herself has said that on more than one occasion.

Well, after the election on Monday, I guess the senior citizens in Westland, and many others have sent a clear message to Sylvia, and to any other elected officials. Do the job right, or the citizens will "throw the rascals out."

First of all, when people get elected, or even before they get elected, many promises are made, and then the old bug of "power" gets into their system, and they feel they can do whatever they want, by threats, and other means of controlling others.

Well get the message Sylvia, and others, that on last Monday, those of us seniors can vote you out of office, because once we mark our absentee ballots, you don't know what we marked, and we can continue to go on with life, because now you will be gone from office.

Now Sylvia did do much good for the seniors, and helped in many ways to get the community together through the voice of "grey power," until she began to believe she was above everyone else, and you either did what she asked, or as she has said to those who disagreed, "You will not be welcome to come back into my building."

Since when did the Friendship Center become HER building? When she put her name on the sign, or put her name on the door, or when she cried her way to get a plaque on the wall.

Her childish ways at meetings are the very same way she has tried to put that nonsense at school board meetings. Cry...cry...cry. Well, we shed no more tears for Sylvia. Had she just done her job, she would still be loved by many people. Now she is pitied by those very people.

You see, like you, we may smile and pretend we are supporting you, but when we mark the ballot, or pull the lever, we really are saying to you, that you have hurt our pride and dignity for the last time. You have treated us like children and idiots for the last time. You have made fools out of us for the last time. You will no longer threaten us or ridicule us.

Your means of hurting and dividing the community with the bus issue, and having papers all over the world laugh at us, as well as the other communities throughout the state, shake their heads because of your promises, and grandstanding for a bus that would no accommodate the handicapped was also in the National Paralyzed Veterans of America Newspaper, and we have become a community of shame.

Your handling of the school board, and the firing, yes firing, not retiring, of Dr. Dennis O'Neill, was the lowest form of concern for human dignity that you have displayed since you came to "power."

You may be a legend in your own mind, but you are a vicious person in the minds of many others.

Your attempt to dismantle the senior citizens program at the Dyer Center in the schools, so you would have more control over the seniors is beyond anyone's imagination, but again it just shows the greed, and contempt that you have for other who choose to disagree with you.

With the bus issue of course, at least four of the city council members knew the right thing to do was to obey the law and the Americans with Disabilities Act, and not look the other way.

To show up at a meeting, and have others say that those people should stay home and read a book, or that the lift gate would be too much noise, and all the other things you urged those people to say, as well as all the letters that YOU wrote, and had others sign their names to, has to be the most abuse of office that any administrator has ever done to the public.

I also question, Sylvia, why you were being paid by taxpayers to work at the Friendship Center, and while on the payroll, were doing school business, at the same time. How many lunches can one person eat a day?

Lunch hour you say when you were destroying a man's career of almost 30 years. I don't think so. Mayor (Robert) Thomas should help YOU retire, as you helped Dr. O'Neill.

It's time the council and mayor listen to the voters, which include senior citizens of Westland. Election time will come upon us very soon. New faces will then be seen. The only "power" is that of the voter. We will not be fooled any more.

Let us regain our pride and dignity that you have tried to destroy along with others.

Name withheld upon request.

Lack of patriotism is criticized

To the editor:
We attended the parade this morning on Wayne Road, near Cherry Hill Road. We were really dismayed by the lack of enthusiasm on the part of the people. When soldiers marched by first in line, people did not even clap. Veterans in wheelchairs gave their all. We clapped, but there weren't many others.

Of course, when the antique cars with V.F.W. drivers went by, there was a small spark of life. Then when the noisy fire truck came by, with the neat little truck, there was a lot more clapping. The loud horns evidently woke up some sleepers or dated humans.

I just heard on the television that the Manhattan Memorial Day Parade was cancelled, due to lack of interest. It started in 1919.

Let's hope this doesn't happen here.

Class thanks D.A.R.E. officer

To the editor:
We would like to thank the Westland Police Department and Officer Terry Donohue for their dedication in giving us the D.A.R.E. Program. Everybody in our class enjoyed having the D.A.R.E. Program. It taught us a lot about drugs and how they affect your body. We are really glad we have D.A.R.E. because if we have D.A.R.E., some of the street drugs might stop being used.

D.A.R.E. has taught us what the consequences of using drugs are. There can be good ones or bad ones. D.A.R.E. means learning about drugs and how they affect your body and mind. Right now, kids are confused, but once they start D.A.R.E., they will understand. People say drugs are a way of life. They're not a way of life, they're a way of death.

We would like to especially thank officer Donohue for coming to our class for 17 weeks teaching us D.A.R.E. He brought us something new every week and was very nice to us. He went bike riding with us at Kensington Park and also went to the circus with us. The Westland Police Department paid for the tickets. He has done a lot for us. We just want to say again, "Thank you, officer Donohue."

Resident thanks township supervisor

To the editor:
A sincere thank you to Van Buren Township Supervisor (David) Jakokes, Van Buren Police Officer Haney and the 34th District Work Commissioner Service Force for picking up the debris gathered by me along Huron River Drive. Although the area beautified by the cleaning area belongs to Wayne County, they refused to pick it up. As a senior citizen and taxpayer, I appealed to Supervisor Jakokes and wish to publicly announce through his efforts the trash was disposed of.

Students grateful for office tour

To the editor:
We would like to thank you for the tour of your newspaper. We really enjoyed our visit.

We enjoyed learning how newspapers are put together. We learned about the many jobs at a newspaper and how the newspaper has changed over the years.

Thank you for taking our picture and thank you for the newspapers you gave us.

Honorary teaching sorority marks silver anniversary

The Beta Sigma Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa members celebrated the silver anniversary of the organization with a dinner at the First Congregational Church in Wayne last month.

Presently the group includes 28 members, many of whom either are now teaching or formerly taught in the Wayne-Westland schools. Four of the members, Kay Flogaus, Anita Henlein, Joan Watson and Julie Wolcott are charter members of the group.

According to Henlein, the purpose of the group is twofold. The members meet to enhance their knowledge of current trends in education through sharing new ideas, programs and material and they attempt to promote projects that will benefit children educationally.

Student winners named

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP News Editor

Two Wayne-Westland students were recently honored by members of the Westland Cultural Society for their involvement in the "Fantastic Fiction" Contest this year.

The winner of the contest, which is sponsored by the Westland Cultural Society and the Westland Parks and Recreation Department, was Adams Junior High School ninth-grade student Benjamin A. Rodriguez who wrote a story called Snapshots.

The first prize in the junior division was awarded to Elliot Elementary School sixth-grade student Amanda Supernois who wrote The Secret of Majica.

More than 159 Wayne-Westland students participated in the contest this year, according to Mona Grigg who is the organizer of the event for the Westland Cultural Society. The contest was established in 1987.

The contest was divided for students in grades seven through nine and students in grades four through six.

Students in the top three prize winning positions in each division had their stories read at the awards ceremony by storyteller Ruth Barr and actor Bob Weibel.

The first place winners received a $100 savings bond from the Westland Cultural Society and also one month of free dance lessons from Ms. Helen's Westland Dance and one month free karate lessons from Shotokan Karate Federation.

Second prize winners received $50 savings bonds and also a $10 gift certificate from a local book store.

The six students who received honorable mentions received either five weeks of gymnastics from Westland Parks and Recreation or one month free karate lessons from Shotokan Karate Federation.

Each student who participated received two free swimming passes to the Westland Municipal Pool.

Other students who won awards for their written contributions to the senior portion of the contest included: third prize winner RyAnn Klassen who is an eighth grade student at Adams Junior High School, ninth-grade Adams Junior High School student Tauheeda Sealie for her story Alzheimer's Disease--Dementia State, ninth grade Adams Junior High School student Barbie Gauthier for her story Strawberry Fields Forever, eighth grade Adams Junior High School student Steve McKee for his story Death Dreams.

Winners in the junior division included: second prize Matt Vail for Adventure at Deadman's Hill, third prize was awarded to Becky Hill a sixth grade student at Wildwood Elementary School for The Sparrow Stone.

Honorable mentions included: Edison Elementary School sixth grade student Julie Anderson for When the Dolls Woke Up, Edison Elementary School sixth grade student Denise Novak for Life is Like a Book, Edison Elementary School sixth grade student Shauna Salin for Is This Summer Camp or a Nightmare?

The group members have provided scholarships for a Wayne Memorial High School senior and a John Glenn High School senior. The group has also made donations to St. Jude's Hospital, the National Kidney Foundation and the Westland Crisis Center. Many of the members are active in the Save the Children Foundation.

This year, the major fund raising project was a Just Friends concert April 10. The proceeds from the concert were used to fund the annual scholarships.

Among the members of the sorority are: Christina Bac, a Wayne Memorial High School teacher; Jill Barnyak, a Roosevelt teacher; Catherine Berna, a Hamilton teacher; Lucy Brown, a retired Hamilton teacher; Charlotte Damminga, a retired Hamilton teacher; Ruth Davis, a retired John Adams teacher; Mary Duff, a Hamilton teacher; Kay Flogaus, a Graham teacher; Phyllis Hamel, a Schweitzer teacher; Anita Henlein, a counselor at West Middle School in Ypsilanti; Carol Hutchens a Wayne Memorial teacher; Florence Lowery, a retired John Glenn teacher; Dolores Martin, a Lincoln teacher; Diane McLean, a William D. Ford teacher; Ruth Melvin, a retired Wayne Memorial teacher; Norma Nicosia, a Graham teacher; Kay Otwell, a Ypsilanti High School teacher; Eileen Pearson, a retired Hoover/Walker teacher; Jan Pennington, a Franklin teacher; Marie Pleuss, an assistant principal at John Glenn; Blanche Schnople, a retired Lincoln teacher; Eva Sears, a Stevenson teacher; Joan Sedik, a John Glenn teacher; Barbara Spurlin, a Graham teacher; Joan Watson, a retired Graham teacher; Sharon Wenzel, a Wayne Memorial teacher; Julie Wolcott, a Wayne Memorial counselor and Barbara Woods, a Wayne Memorial teacher.

Officers of the group include Joan Sedik who serves as president, and Barb Woods who is president-elect. Immediate past president of the group is Phyllis Hamel and corresponding secretary is Mary Duff.

Serving as recording secretary is Carol Hutchens and Ruth Melvin serves as treasurer for the group. Lucy Brown performs the duties of historian for the sorority and sergeant at arms is Jill Barnyak.

Chaplain for the group is Florence Lowery.
